

Christine Carrino Gorowara, Ph.D., Co-Vice Chair

Christine is currently Dean of the School of Education at Trinity Washington University in the District of Columbia. Previously, Christine was the senior associate director at the Delaware Center for Teacher Education at the University of Delaware, vice president of the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation and a faculty member at UD's School of Education. She was also a school board member and a national education organization leader. Her children attended Elementary Workshop Montessori School.